

TYPES OF AVAILABLE AID

Grants

Grants are awards that do not need to be repaid as long as the student meets the academic progress requirements of the granting agency.

Federal Pell Grant: The Federal Pell Grant makes funds available to eligible students with financial need. To be eligible for Federal Pell Grant, students must not have earned their first baccalaureate degree or have used more than 12 full-time equivalent semesters of Federal Pell Grant during their lifetime. Students must meet the standard eligibility criteria (<http://catalog.uas.alaska.edu/financial-aid/eligibility/>) and funds are limited, so we encourage students to complete their FAFSA as early as possible.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (FSEOG): The (FSEOG) program is similar to the Pell Grant program and can provide additional assistance to students with financial need and are eligible for the maximum Federal Pell Grant. Students must meet the standard eligibility criteria (<http://catalog.uas.alaska.edu/financial-aid/eligibility/>) and funds are limited, so we encourage students to complete their FAFSA as early as possible.

Federal Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant: Through the College Cost Reduction and Access Act of 2007, Congress created the Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant Program (<https://studentaid.gov/app/launchTeach.action/>) that provides grants of up to $4,000 per year to students who intend to teach in a public or private elementary or secondary school that serves students from low-income families. Students must meet the standard eligibility criteria (<http://catalog.uas.alaska.edu/financial-aid/eligibility/>) and must complete the TEACH Grant Application (https://uas.alaska.edu/financial\_aid/forms.html) and follow all the steps necessary to obtain this funding option.

Stay on Track/University of Alaska Grant : Sophomores, juniors, and seniors taking 15 credits or more can receive $750 per academic year. The UAS Financial Aid Office automatically awards the Stay on Track/University of Alaska Grant to eligible students. The funds are limited, so we encourage students to complete their FAFSA as early as possible. To be considered, complete the FAFSA, register for 15 credits or more, and meet program requirements (https://uas.alaska.edu/financial\_aid/policies-and-definitions.html#stayOnTrack).

Alaska Education Grant: The Alaska Education Grant (AEG) is a need-based grant offered by the State of Alaska. ## Student Employment

Federal Work-Study Program: The Federal Work-Study (FWS) program provides a limited number of jobs for eligible students, as determined by the application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). Most of the FWS opportunities are on campus. Students may work up to twenty (20) hours per week during the semester, and possibly up to forty (40) hours per week during semester break periods. Wages depend on the job responsibilities and the student's qualifications. Students must apply (<https://careers.alaska.edu/home-page/>) online for work-study positions. There is no work-study money appropriated for the summer. All summer student employee jobs are primarily department-funded.

Part-Time Employment: Students who are not eligible for the Federal Work-Study program may still find part-time employment on or off-campus. Information on position openings is available through <https://careers.alaska.edu/home-page> (<https://careers.alaska.edu/home-page/>).

Loans

Student loans are a large source of assistance designed to help students pay for their education. As with any loan, students should be conservative and only borrow what they absolutely need. Student loans must be repaid-with interest, under the terms of the master promissory note (MPN). Education loans come in three major categories: federal student loans, federal loans for parents, and private alternative loans.

Federal Direct Stafford Loans

The Direct Loan Program enables students to borrow directly from the U.S. Department of Education. To qualify, a student must complete the FAFSA. Students must be enrolled at least half-time to receive a disbursement. Other eligibility requirements are listed on the Financial Aid Office's Website (https://uas.alaska.edu/financial\_aid/policies-and-definitions.html).

- Federal Subsidized Student Loan: This is a need-based loan in which the federal government pays the interest while the student is attending postsecondary education at least half-time and for six months after graduation or after the student leaves school. There are annual and aggregate (i.e., lifetime) limits (<https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/loans/subsidized-unsubsidized/>) on subsidized student loans, including a limit on students receiving subsidized loans for a time period greater than 150% of the time required to complete their degree program.
- Federal Unsubsidized Student Loan: This loan is not a need-based loan, meaning that all eligible students qualify regardless of financial need. Interest accumulates on these loans from the time they are disbursed to the student's account. There are annual and aggregate (i.e., lifetime) limits (<https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/loans/#how-much-money-can-i-borrow-in-federal-student-loans>) on unsubsidized student loans.
- Federal Direct PLUS Loan for Graduates: PLUS loans are federal loans that graduate or professional degree students can use to help pay educational expenses. The maximum loan amount is the student's cost of attendance minus other financial aid received.

Federal Direct Parent PLUS Loans

Parents can borrow for their dependent student's educational costs. The maximum loan amount is the student's cost of attendance minus other financial aid received. Completion of the FAFSA is required to borrow a PLUS loan. The interest on the PLUS loan begins to accrue with disbursement. Payments usually begin 60 days after the loan is fully disbursed.

Alternative Private Loans

An alternative private loan is a personal loan from a bank that is used for educational expenses. These loans are often used as a supplement to a student's existing financial aid package, so Federal Direct Loans should be maximized before applying for an alternative private loan. Many alternative loans may be deferred until graduation; some may require interest payments while the student is still enrolled. Interest rates, origination fees, repayment options, and other terms and conditions of alternative private loans will vary, so it's important that students research alternative private loan options carefully. Once a lender is selected, the student must complete an application and MPN for each alternative loan requested.
